Trans Mountain Pipeline in Canada awards service contract to WorleyParsons

WorleyParsons is pleased to announce the award of a service contract by Trans Mountain Pipeline L.P. in Canada.

Under this service contract, WorleyParsons will provide skilled resources as an extension to the Trans Mountain Expansion Project (TMEP) management team for construction monitoring and inspection on the TMEP. The pipeline will carry oil from Alberta, through the Rocky Mountains to the British Columbia coast for export to international locations.

This is the second contract awarded in relation to the TMEP. On 23 October 2017, WorleyParsons announced the engineering, procurement and construction (EPC) contract awarded to WorleyParsonsCord.

“We are pleased to be awarded this service contract by Trans Mountain to allow us to continue to support them in bringing Canadian energy resources to the world” said Andrew Wood, Chief Executive Officer of WorleyParsons.
